Blessed with Extraordinary is a heartfelt guide to caring for children with Down Syndrome from birth into independent adulthood.

Linda Bonner intertwines her personal experiences of raising her son Kevin, beginning with her initial grief to embracing the joy of parenting her extraordinary child, with practical resources, empowering tools, and a lifelong roadmap to help you forge a clear path to a life of opportunities for you and your child.

Linda Bonner has pulled together a practical guide for families of children with Down Syndrome to help them build a truly great life. From personal knowledge, I know the time she spent finding the resources that she shares in this special book. Her personal stories provide encouragement that families will easily relate to and learn from.

Linda's words and stories gave me a deeper understanding of the special journey many parents are on. The resources and encouragement that Linda shares with readers is supported by years of first-hand experience and a passion for people that is second to none. Each chapter focuses on a key piece of the disability puzzle that comes together as a very moving and informative toolkit!
